Description

Are you ready to start your journey to becoming an artist, feeling inquisitive, creative and open-minded then this course is just for you.

This course is an introduction to skills and materials working in art and design while working towards a series of subject briefs experimenting with different techniques and media.

Whilst working towards the qualification you will complete a portfolio of work through the course which includes research, material exploration and technique development. At the end of the course you will create, present and review final art and design outcomes.

To participate in this course, you will need a laptop, tablet or PC with webcam a microphone, internet connection with Google Chrome browser, an email address and be able to access websites.

What Will Happen At My First Lesson

The first week of your course will include Study Skills to ensure you get the best out of your course. You will be given the opportunity to ask questions and the full requirements of the course.

Examinations Venue Disclaimer

This qualification does not have a written exam as the qualification is achieved by the completion and submission of a portfolio.

What Qualification/level is this course?

This is course leads to a nationally recognised NCFE Level 1 Award in Art and Design.

Who is the course for?

This course is suitable for beginners or those who have completed an introductory course within art and design who would like to gain a qualification.

What can I expect to learn?

The objectives of the qualification are to enable learners to:

- Develop a portfolio of work in art and design
- Use materials, tools and equipment correctly and safely
- Develop an understanding of health and safety considerations surrounding art and design

You will do this by completing three units

1. Explore Available Resources to Develop Basic Art and Design Skills
2. Explore and Develop Art and Design Ideas Creatively
3. Create, Present and Review Final Art and Design item (s)

Learning will take place online with the use of the VLE and live interactive webinars. Demonstrations of techniques will be available as video and written content.

Peer learning is encouraged and the use of online discussion boards within the VLE will be used, as well as websites such as Padlet to allow the sharing of work, ideas and questions.

How will I learn?

Your tutor will use a number of different teaching methods to develop your skills. These will include a wide range of authentic materials, individual study, working in pairs/group activities and will include the use of video/audio. You will also have the opportunity to use online learning technologies to develop your skills.

How will I know how well I am doing?

You will be encouraged to reflect on your learning through regular assessments and feedback from your tutor.

Will I have to do any work at home ?

All work will be completed independently at home as this is a distance learning course. It is recommended that you spend around 10 hours working independently across the duration of the course.

What will I need to provide?

To participate in this course, you will need a laptop, tablet or PC with a webcam and microphone, internet connection with Google Chrome browser, an email address and be able to access websites.

Access to a printer would be beneficial but not essential.

For the first session please be prepared with the following:

- A camera or camera phone
- A4 sketchbook
- HB Pencil
- Pen

Your tutor will advise on which portfolio meets the requirements.

Further required materials will be outlined during the first session.
